Chapter 1 by Aaron Hartmann

I think I know why we don't have hover boards yet, like in Back to the Future.

I think that someone in the year 1985 did something to disrupt the space time continuum that interrupted the process of the making of a hover board. I'm not sure what they did but if you guys have any ideas, that'd be great.

Chapter 2 by Cat4055

I think, someone was smart and said, "Screw it, everyone would crash them while looking at Facebook and surfing the internet."

Chapter 3 by alice hardaker

Maty logged onto the website to let everyone know what happened, for you see, Doc had visited him to let him know. Turns out, the Deloren was supposed to be found by one of Marty's friend's dad who would leak the technology to NASA, who would then use part of it to create hovercars and hoverboards. However, all of this was ruined when the Deloren got smashed by the train.

The creation of segways crashed time, and turned into today's "hoverboards"

And now that somebody used that name, we will NEVER have a real hoverboard. Thanks a lot, Shane Chen, founder of Inventist. You just ended back to the future dreams from around the world. You are a NOOB M8 OH SUCH BURN DOGE M8 OHHHHHHHHHHH

Chapter 5 by Emmie (TheSideSaddleArcher)

Or we got the internet first, then we got too distracted and science has never been the same.

Chapter 6 by Emmie (TheSideSaddleArcher)

Though there is a hover motorcycle that is being refined for military use.

Chapter 7 by SaintSayaka

Which, really, brings us back to square one.

Thanks a lot, Emmie.

Chapter 8 by Emmie (TheSideSaddleArcher)

You are welcome!
